MANY INTERESTING EVENTS EXPERIENCED BY PROFESSORS

Faculty Members Spend Profitable and Pleasant Summer in Study, Work and Travel

Summer ended on September 22 but to hear the students talk one might be led to believe that vacations were still to be had. Of course one expects to hear about trips abroad but to listen to some one who has either worked or loafed all summer recount his or her daily activities is too much.

If these people could be made to realize when enough is enough this life would be much more pleasant. Without cause for talking they talk for hours while those that have really done something can not be made to talk. Now, the professors spent their vacations in very interesting places doing very interesting things but they have not been bragging about it. Many of their vacations were so interesting that they are of interest to everyone.

President Omwake did not have a very long vacation. He was kept busy with the work connected with the Science building and preparing for the opening of school. The Doctor managed to escape from his duties for a few days in order to take a trip through the mountains of Pennsylvania with his family.

Dean Kline spent two months at his farm in Adams county reading and resting.

The professor who traveled farthest away from Ursinus was Dr. Smith. He spent most of his time enjoying the climate of the Hawaiian Islands. His trip was such a pleasant one that he did not return to Collegeville until the Saturday before school opening.

Dr. Beardwood's spare time was spent drifting through the New Jersey.

COLLEGE BAND ORGANIZES FOR FOOTBALL SEASON Horn Leader

With the advent of the football season the College Band again looms into the foreground. The initial get-together was staged last Tuesday night in Bomberger Hall with practically every "musician" of the College in attendance. Harold Horn, of Collegeville, has again accepted the task of directing the organization. It will be remembered how skillfully he conducted the band last year, hence a lively organization may be expected full of pep and snap to play at football games and pep meetings in order to rally the team on to victory.

Jack Coates '32, manager, has arranged to take the band on two out of town football trips, namely: F. & M. and Drexel. The only drawback at the present time is the fact that the funds of the treasury are too low. In order to surmount this obstacle representatives of the band will canvass the student body for contributions. The Alumni will also have their chances to help finance this project by their donations at the home football games.

Horn together with the manager has decided to drill the squad in the gymnasium in preparation for field marching at the several games. This year Dave Stevenson '34 with plume and baton will fill the capacity of drum major. The thirty-five men marching behind him will work hard in order that they might earn the band letters, which are awarded to only those who have not missed more than one practice. Thus it will be seen that the band is worthy of the student support—keep it on the field.

The Weekly takes pleasure in printing an Action Picture of the Ursinus-Lehigh game last Saturday. This photograph was snapped in the fourth quarter of the fray when the sun momentarily broke through the haze and mist. Captain Miller of Ursinus is shown carrying the ball for a six-yard gain around end. Sommers, substitute guard of Ursinus, is seen on his left knee blocking out Skelly, Lehigh sub for Stein, and Short, quarterback. The opposing left end Fortman is seen on the extreme right.

HOCKEY PRACTICE BEGUN

Much Material Available for Coach
Snell to Round Into a Winning Combination

Nothing more than fundamental drilling and renewal of relations between old players was indulged in by the women's hockey squad during the first seasonal practice, Thursday, September 24. The return of many of last year's varsity players, among which number appear the names of such already famed athletes as Captain-elect "Toot" Wismer, "Billie" Strickler, "Mickey" Stenger, Ann Uhrich, Esther Billet, Edith Walters, and a great many others, means that the backbone of the team has already been formed.

Watch the hockey team this season. Coach Snell, who at this time is making her debut in Ursinus athletics, has a sturdy squad of players and several veteran stars who did much damage against opposing teams last year. The freshman candidates look promising although little can be said about their development at this time. Miss Snell is a ranking coach and player, having participated in both amateur and professional play with some of the best teams in this country and in England.

The captain-elect, Toot Wismer, is one of the girls who has made a name for herself in Ursinus athletics. The manager, Kippy White, promises an interesting season with a tough schedule, altho the dates of the games are still tentative. The team opens its season with Philadelphia Normal School, October 10th, at Ursinus.

JOHNSON ADDRESSES SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS ON "MORALE"

Russell C. "Jing" Johnson, director of athletics and ever-popular after dinner speaker, was the guest of honor at three banquets last week. On Wednesday he addressed the Norris-town Lions Club at the Plymouth Country Club on the "Development of a Mental Attitude." "Any boy is a champion if he fills his cup to the brim, using all of his talents, however small they may be." "Jing" stressed the importance of a strong morale in an athletic team.

Tuesday evening Wentz's Reformed Church, Worcester, honored the championship ball team of the Sunday School league and Johnson spoke on "The Qualities of a Champion."

At Parkerford, on Monday Mr. Johnson addressed the banquet in honor of the local Baptist Church baseball team which had won the championship of the Chester County League. "Fundamental Qualities of a Successful Ball Player" was the subject of especial interest to the gathering.

Sophs Victorious in Hard Annual Class Struggle

With many grunts, groans, and sighs, the Sophomore class won the time honored Frosh-Soph tug-of-war last Monday afternoon. The scene of battle was beside the first tennis court. The winners succeeded in detrenching the lowly Frosh in two successive pulls of two minutes duration.

Cheered on by the co-eds and respective sister classes, the boys struggled, hanging on to a thick bull rope about two inches in diameter. With a handkerchief as the center marker, the team having the white emblem on its side of the post at the expiration of the allotted time was considered the winner. Scott V. Covert '32, president of the Men's Student Council, acted as referee of the contest in the absence of "Hy" Miller, the football captain. John Clawson '32 held the stop watch. Louis W. Mitchell was anchor man for the winners while Craig Johnson pulled for the Frosh. Each member of the victorious team was awarded five feet of the rope as a souvenir of the occasion while the losers had the great privilege of paying for the rope, priced $7.02.

The following pulled for their respective classes:

Sophs	Frosh
Louis Mitchell	C. Johnson
Harry Baldwin, Jr.	Herbert Stratton
Lewis Peters	John Witter
Emory Mabry	Camille Kurtz
Henry Davis	Harry Dresch
George Fiss	William Pole
George Longaker	Thos. Hepner

WOMEN'S A. A. MANAGERS

The Women's Athletic Association met last Wednesday and elected Rena Grim '33 tennis manager and Kay Hand '32 hiking manager for the coming season. The point system was thoroughly discussed. Ann Uhrich '32 presided.

NEW COUNCIL ORGANIZED

Prof. Brownback Heads Group to Deal with Student Social Problems

The representatives of the Council on Student Activities met Thursday September 23 with the purpose of organizing for the year. Prof. J. Harold Brownback was elected as chairman and Rhona Lawrence '32 elected as Secretary-Treasurer. The executive council consists of these officers with the addition of the Presidents of the Student Councils, Lois Strickler '32 and Scott V. Covert '32 and two faculty advisors designated by Dr. Omwake, who are Dr. White and Dr. Barnard. The one other elected member, to make the full committee of seven, is Anne Uhrich '32.

The executive committee must approve of all social plans for the events scheduled throughout the year.

Several committees were appointed. A committee comprising the two Student Council Presidents and Kathryn Hand '32, Alfred Alspach '33 and Mrs. J. X. Sheeder was appointed to select the hosts and hostesses for the Recreation Hall. Aram Y. Parunak '33 was put in charge of repairing the radio for Recreation Hall.

Consent was given by the Council to give the Men's and Women's Student Council the date, October 10, for a dance to follow the Dickinson game.

An auditing committee was appointed to consist of Alfred C. Alspach '33 chairman, B. Roy Burkhart '32 and Jane Price '32. They will report at the next meeting.

FOOTBALL COACHES SPEAK AT FIRST PEP MEETING

The first pep meeting of the year was held last Thursday evening at seven o'clock in Bomberger Hall. It was a marked success inasmuch as a large number of the student body and all the football coaches were in attendance. The band also made its first appearance and played several numbers to enliven the meeting.

The old and popular Ursinus cheers were used, and freshmen had a chance to see what the cheer leading section at Ursinus can do. "Bill" Beddall '32 and Walter Welsh '33 were the cheer leaders. Speeches by "Jing" Johnson, Coach McAvoy, assistant coaches Chase and Evans, and captain "Hy" Miller followed. All expressed an optimistic attitude, provided the student body gives the team the proper support.

The band played several marches, the Campus Song, and "Fight Ursinus." This year Harold Horn '23, has again consented to manage the band and a real college outfit will be on hand to play at most of the games. All men with instruments who have not turned out should report to J. B. Coates '32 as soon as possible.

All organizations must schedule the time of their meeting in the Calendar of Events at the College office.

Bears Performance Shows Fine Coaching and Good Generalship in Initial Fray

GREAT POSSIBILITIES FORSEEN

Ursinus inaugurated its current football season in a very convincing manner when it journeyed to Taylor Field, Bethlehem, and humiliated Lehigh University by a 12-7 count. All of the points were accounted for in the initial half.

The Grizzlies outclassed their opponents in every department of the game except passing. A comparatively light line outfought and outgained a heavier Lehigh forward wall and opened large holes through which the fast Ursinus backs scampered with ease. Time after time Capt. Miller, Wally Tropp, and Claude Lodge galloped off-tackle or through the center of the line for gains. On the other hand the Brown and White's only effective means of gaining ground was via the aerial route. In punting Capt. Miller held a large advantage over his rival captain, "Al" Ware.

The home team, aided by a "break" tallied early in the first quarter but their lead was as unimpressive as it was short-lived. After Miller had kicked off, Lehigh lost the ball on downs and after Ursinus failed to gain "Hy" attempted to punt but his effort was blocked by Hirschberg, giant Lehigh tackle. This gave Lehigh the ball on the 31 yard line from which marker they scored on several pass plays, the last one, Ware to Fortman, netting the score. Ware then placekicked the point.

The Bears came back with a vengeance and Lodge ran off-tackle for 13 yards and a touchdown after a sustained drive of about fifty yards. Then, in the second quarter the Grizzlies, after Parunak had recovered a fumble on Lehigh's 15 yard line, scored again when "Hy" Miller plunged over the stripe from the one yard marker. Both of Lodge's attempted place kicks were blocked. This ended all scoring for the day. However, Ursinus consistently outgained and outplayed its foe during the remainder of the game and threatened to

FALL TENNIS TOURNAMENT UNEARTHS VARSITY MATERIAL

Twenty candidates have turned out for the annual fall Men's Tennis Tournament. Play has already commenced and much new material has been revealed for the tennisteam next spring. The winner of the tournament will receive the "big hand" from the boys. J. Parker Massey '32, captain-elect of the team, is sponsoring the tournament.

The following is the result of the drawing for the first round of play: A. Harris and Heiges, Bressler and Fisher, Cunningham and Stewart, Kugler and Pote, Heller and Russo, Mitchell and Pearlstine, Gibbel and Citta, Kochenberger and Ziccardi, Stibitz and Clark, Dresch and Pease, Williams and Kutra, Herb Harris and Palm.

A WORSHIPFUL CHAPEL SERVICE

Much was said last semester concerning the conduct of students during the daily chapel exercises. For a brief time the situation was seemingly remedied, but now it is as bad as ever. It is very disconcerting to the chapel leader, the choir, organist, and all those concerned to hear the continual humming and buzzing, idle babble about nothing in particular and everything in general. The college chapel service should be entered into with a spirit of reverence such as one would observe in a church. The service is brief, only a few minutes, and students have ample time before and after to talk about their last date, newest dress, class assignments and what not.

We do not wonder that the faculty members dislike to lead chapel exercises when such conditions exist. The institution has a purpose or "raison d'être". It has a place in the every-day college life. There is no good reason why the individual cannot refrain from talking for a short time. There are only a few consistent annoyances and it is to these that this editorial is directed. Let all observe the rule of courtesy and help to make the daily chapel service more profitable.

NOW IS THE APPOINTED TIME

Perhaps a "hit the books" editorial would not be amiss at this time of the year. A new environment, new acquaintances, new habits and a host of other things all tend to disrupt the mode of life of the individual until he has acclimated himself to the new circumstances. Any student can work wonders with his spare time if he is a good general of his leisure. Our hats go off to the person who can participate in multitudes of activities and gain commendable marks in his classroom studies. Some one has rightly said that the measure of a man's success is the use to which he puts his spare time. College life is full of people who "could have done better", sad human derelicts.

The race is not to the brilliant alone. We all respect and admire the plunger and plodder who does his every day work to the best of his ability. Ordinarily observation and common sense clearly show that the most brilliant student does not always make the best scholar or teacher. It is a historical fact that the author of Gray's Anatomy failed in anatomy and yet today his work is a standard. Giuseppe Verdi, the great Italian master, was rejected by a school of music. In the long distance run the man who leads at the beginning does not necessarily win the race. No student should be discouraged who is willing to work, eager to learn, and possessed with intelligent curiosity.

This is an appeal particularly to the class that has just entered college. The year is before you to do with it as you will. If you fritter away your time with idle talk and nonsensities, the day of regret will surely come. On the other hand, to the person who plans his work, is a thorough marshal of his time and talents, will come a keen joy which cannot be expressed but can only be sensed and enjoyed. To this end let all of us make the most of our opportunities.

A. C. A., '33.

CLEAR THE FIELD

Our attention has been called to a condition which exists at the daily football drills, namely the difficulty caused by spectators crowding on the field of play. This of course is not one of the major problems of the College, but small as it is, it is worthy of the attention of all those who attend the practices and calls for the exercise of simple ideas of courtesy.

Those who mass around the teams in action prevent others from seeing, who in turn desert the sidelines and join the ringside in an effort to see. Then also the inconvenience to the players is much greater than at first thought. Often the surrounding circle of humanity draws so close as to actually interfere with the execution of plays. Even if it does not the very fact of being walled in is likely to hamper the players mentally, for they have the feeling of playing in a limited space. All told it is not a natural playing condition, nor is it one in which regular games are played. It is, therefore, bad psychology for the teams to prepare for the regular games in such surroundings. We hope that these few words calling the students' attention to the facts as they exist will be sufficient. Let us, in the future, show the proper courtesy toward the team and the coaches and stick to the sidelines.

OUR LETTER BOX

Elsewhere on this page the readers will find printed two letters which have been received during the past week commenting upon an editorial which appeared recently in this column. We wish at this time to thank the writers of these letters both for the interest they have shown in the subject discussed, and for the candid expression of their views. It is much easier to object to some viewpoint—to express one's self verbally, than to take the time and trouble in formulating them on paper. We wish also to state, for the benefit of those who are not acquainted with it, the policy of the Weekly in respect to communications addressed to it for publication. The Weekly welcomes letters commenting upon the editorials or other phases of its work. However, as in the past, all letters must be signed by the writer and the Weekly retains the sole right of judging their suitability for printing.

E. E. S., '32

THE FOLLOWING LETTERS ARE IN RESPONSE TO RECENT EDITORIAL COMMENT

Editor-in-Chief,
Ursinus Weekly.
Sir:

I have just completed the reading of your most recent and rabid editorial. Permit me to congratulate you on your choice of a title. With the exception of the first three words it was exceedingly appropriate.

In the first place, you have sadly confused the institutions of the "Bull Session" and the Tribunal. No "Bull Session" ever was started with the intention, either declared or inferred, of giving fatherly advice. It is openly a device for the punishment and warning of obviously "important" Frosh. The Tribunal has to do with the problem of advising promising Freshmen who have made a poor start. I have not the slightest wish to defend or uphold the "Bull Session". It sometimes exceeds the bounds of respectability, as you said. But can you suggest anything better? Even you seem to think that the Freshmen should be restrained for a limited time, and how else would you suggest to accomplish it?

You mention the removal of ties and dinks after a short period. You may not be acquainted with the fact that the Frosh themselves may hurry the removal of customs by winning a certain percentage of the inter-class athletic contests. Were the customs to be taken off by Student Council these contests would certainly lose what interest and flavor they now command. This is not wanted by any of the classes.

The last point in your emancipation program was the abolition of practically all errand-running. Let's look at it on a percentage basis. A Freshman may be made to run rather consistently his first year here. But the remaining three years of his stay his tasks are lightened by the three successive incoming classes. In other words, his errands during the first year are an investment from which he reaps the returns of three years' leisure from menial and routine chores.

Hoping you are the same,
NORMAN R. ROBERTS '33.

Editor-in-Chief
Ursinus Weekly

Sir:

Your editorial "Dinks, Ties, and Foolishness" has created a hubbub on the campus. All Ursinus was rapidly divided into two armed camps, which are constantly harangued by fiery-eyed agitators. Premise upon premise is marshalled to defend or attack your editorial. For the first time since the unfortunate Inky affair, Ursinus students have seen fit to close their text-books and discuss a campus problem. Indeed, yours is the "shot heard 'round the world!"

The utter fearlessness, slightly reminiscent of the Scripps-Howard pose, with which you so ably defend this minority cause is laudable.

The authority with which you write of "bull sessions" cannot be questioned, since your own checkered career as a first year student is still remembered. You, Mr. Editor, may be considered a fair example of the harm caused by "bull sessions".

Need I state that I am in happy accord with the major proposals set forth in your editorial: that "bull sessions" and errand running be abolished. However, I do believe that the removal of customs would be tossing the well known monkey wrench into the equally well known machinery. This is written upon the suggestion of several students of the Freshman class who are quite in favor of your magnanimous and democratic gesture.

I hope that my position regarding these "reforms" is quite clear when it is remembered that as Freshman I was,

Your obedient servant,
HERBERT HARRIS '33.

OLD TIMERS' DAY ON OCT. 10

Don't forget the big day! How about it, Alumni? Are you coming lack for the Old Timers' Day game, Dickinson being the opponent? There's only one answer and that is YES.

Remember that after the game is the Old Timers' Luncheon in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium, with lots of eats promised.

Mr. Edgar Robinson, of the class of '14, is sending a jazz orchestra composed of Phoenixville High School students to keep things rolling along. The entire coaching staff will enliven the affair, too, by speeches and—well we don't know what all they intend to do, so stay and find out.

Have you sent your five dollars to Henry W. Mathieu, 278 Main street, Trappe, Pa., for the Alumni Athletic Season Book, admitting the holder to all home games, plus the luncheon? Send in now for it!

The Tower Window

There is a condition arising in human society which opens a great field of service for the Christian colleges of the country. The situation is not of these colleges' own making but may be considered a development from an attitude or position in opposition to which the teachings of the Christian colleges have always stood. These institutions have strongly combatted the materialistic view of life. Yet all are aware of the strong hold materialism came to have on life, especially within the last two decades. Men the world over, but especially in Europe and America had come to put their trust solely in human resources. The machines of their invention and the money of their making displaced whatever trust in the Deity their forefathers may have had.

But the experiences of the business world during the past two years, and their far reaching effects have proven to many an unfortunate soul the futility of a faith that is purely of the earth earthy. Here and there individuals whose business fortunes have been rudely shattered, in hopelessness and despair have resorted to suicide. Pitiable indeed is such sinister outcome of misplaced trust. There are multitudes who have not resorted to this desperate ultimatum who nevertheless stand on the brink with their feet slipping and blindly grasping for something which will save them from utter destruction. Others, who in their earlier life had been taught something of the Christian faith, have frankly and resolutely abandoned their false gods and have found comfort and renewed hope in the promises of God.

At the same time the great multitudes who have shared somewhat the trials of this period of recession but who have not suffered overmuch, have been impressed with the emptiness of a life whose only object is worldly gain. Taking the world by and at large, we have asked for a stone and have been given a stone. We proclaimed a moral holiday and find that what we thought was a merry-go-round is a whirlpool. Or, putting our case in the blunt terms of that rope-encircling, gum-chewing philosopher of Beverly Hills, "The Lord has put us where we belong." Only by turning to the Lord will we find our way out of the present slough of despond.

It is to just such a world as ours that the redeeming love of God as revealed in Jesus Christ comes with saving power and grace. A great ministry is at hand for all Christian institutions of society and for all individuals whose experience in Christ enables them to point out "the way, the truth and the life." G. L. O.

Y. M. OPENS WITH MEETING IN BOMBERGER MEM. HALL

The first assemblage of the Y. M. C. A. for the school year 1931-32 was held in the chapel of Bomberger Hall on Wednesday evening, September 23. The meeting was opened with the singing of the hymns "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Faith of Our Fathers." Claude Lodge '33, who conducted the meeting, read the scripture and offered a prayer. A hymn, "God Send Us Men," was next sung by the gathering. Jacob Weaver '32, president of the Y. M. C. A., gave a short talk in which he outlined the program for the ensuing year. He stated that twenty-five or more speakers will be available for discussion forums. These meetings will be held twice a month. Another evening each month will be devoted to a joint meeting with the Y. W. C. A. He also announced that a number of smokers will be held during the football season to stimulate the enthusiasm of the student body. The fact was also stressed that the organization is now campaigning for new members as well as for the re-enrollment of all of the old members who have returned to the campus.

The group then joined in singing, "Savior, Again to Thy Dear Name We Raise" and the Lord's Prayer which was followed by the benediction.

Mortimer Swartz ex-'32 and Jesse Hafer '31 were recent visitors on the campus.

Y. W. C. A. ENJOYS SONG SERVICE AT GLENWOOD MEMORIAL

Wednesday evening, September 23, the Y. W. C. A. held a song service at Glenwood Memorial. Ruth White '33 was in charge and she led the songs assisted by Iris Lutz '33, and Sara Pfahler '34. College, camp, and popular songs comprised the program, and the beautiful sunset just at that time fitted in with the atmosphere created. Especially impressive was the fact that with the singing of the Campus Song, "When the shades of evening gather" the sunset faded and dusk fell.

INTER-SORORITY COUNCIL NAMES ADDITIONAL OFFICERS

Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock the Inter-Sorority Council met in the Seminar Room in the Library. Rhona Lawrence '32, who was elected president last year, took charge. It was decided that there would be no regular meetings as there had previously been. If there is any business to be brought up, the president will call a meeting if she sees fit.

Good Printing

The printed word often needs a touch to carry its message—a little color, perhaps, delicately applied—a unique format, breaking away from stilted forms—illustrations, conveying to the mind the visible expression of the word—something calculated to arrest the readers eye and gain attention.

HUMBLE LEHIGH 12-7

score several times only to be turned back, numerous penalties ruining several chances.

No individual star could be picked out in the Bears' victory. All four backfield men did yeoman service. Soeder's quarterbacking was of the highest order while "Hy" Miller, Lodge, and Tropp proved well-nigh unstoppable, losing only 13 yards from scrimmage during the whole game. The line also showed the effects of excellent coaching by "Horse" Chase. Capt. Ware was the best performer for the home clan. Only one substitution was made by Coach McAvoy while "Austy" Tate made numerous changes in a vain effort to stop the Collegeville crew.

Haverford will be the Bears' next opponent.

DETAILS OF PLAY

First Quarter

Lehigh won the toss and Ware elected to receive. "Hy" Miller kicked off and the ball was returned to Lehigh's 42 yard stripe. After Doering failed to make any serious indentations in the charging Ursinus line Capt. Ware punted to Lodge on the 22 yard line. Claude returned it to the 33 yard marker. Miller also attempted to punt after several plays but the effort was blocked by Hirschberg, giant tackle, and Lehigh received the oval on "U's" 32 yard line. The homesters opened a forward passing attack from this point and this route culminated in the first score, Ware to Fortman. Ware placekicked the extra point.

Ware kicked off to Lodge, who carried the ball 12 yards to the 32 yard stripe. After an exchange of punts Ursinus received the ball on its own 41 yard line. From here a sustained march was begun featuring a pass, Miller to Thoroughgood, and running by Tropp which ended when Lodge dashed 13 yards for a score. His attempted placement was blocked by Cooper. Miller again kicked off to Ware who made a startling 25 yard return to the 40 yard line. Shortly after this the first quarter ended.

Second Quarter

After Ware had been thrown for a loss by Henschel, he punted to Lodge who returned the ball 11 yards to the 35 yard marker. After a first down had been registered Miller was forced to punt. Shortly thereafter Short fumbled and Parunak broke thru to recover on Lehigh's 15 yard line. The Bears sensed the opportunity to score and several line plays netted them the tally with Miller carrying the ball on the final plunge. Lodge's placekick was again blocked, this time by Demarest, substitute center.

Miller kicked off again and after several plays Lehigh was forced to punt to Miller who was downed on his own 26 yard line. Hereafter a 15-yard penalty was charged against the Bears for holding but Miller soon punted out of danger to his 48 yard line. The half closed as Ursinus recovered the ball when an attempted lateral pass was fumbled by Short.

Third Quarter

Miller again kicked off to Short who returned the ball 30 yards to the 45. Lehigh reeled off 2 first downs. Ware was then forced to punt, as was Ursinus. Several exchanges of punts followed with Miller holding the advantage. Soon after Ware fumbled and the ball went to Ursinus in Lehigh's 26 yard line as the period ended. The Bears were completely outplaying the Brown and White but lacked the necessary power to score. Several penalties also figured here, all of them in favor of Lehigh.

Fourth Quarter

Taking the ball on Lehigh's 26 yard line Miller attempted a pass but it was intercepted by Short on the 17 yard line. This saved Lehigh from being scored on again. After several line plays Ware punted to Lodge on his 46 yard line. Tropp made a first down on two plays and Lodge made another one with a 14 yard plunge thru center. Shortly thereafter Ursinus was penalized 15 yards which put the ball back on Lehigh's 48 yard line. Tropp made 8 yards at center but a penalty nullified a pass from Soeder to Miller. Miller then punted out of bounds on Lehigh's 13 yard line. Lehigh got a first down on a pass from Ware to Doering. Paul then consecutively threw back two men for losses and Lehigh's march was halted when Ware punted to Lodge at mid-field. After an attempted pass failed Miller got off a beautiful punt which went out of bounds on the 6 yard line. Ware then gambled and passed from behind his own goal line to Doering for a 18 yard gain. However, another pass failed and he punted to Lodge on the 43 yard line. Miller shortly thereafter kicked the ball deep into enemy territory and the game ended as the ball was on Lehigh's 23 yard line.

LEHIGH-LIGHTS

Tribute is here paid to the unsung heroes who, with sardine compatibility, braved the elements in a rumble seat to and from Taylor Field.

Hy Miller drew first blood in the Ware-Miller friendly feud when he reeled off nine yards in the opening minutes of play. Not to be outdone, Ware dashed through center for the same distance after Hirschberg, giant tackle, had blocked Miller's punt. The Brown and White captain then tossed Doering a short pass, picked up a yard at center, and loosed a perfect pass over the goal line to Fortman for Lehigh's only touchdown.

Lehigh's seven minute touchdown threw Brown and White cheer-leaders into fits of hilarity. They were quite glum for the remainder of the fracas.

The Bears' first touchdown was the culmination of a drive from midfield. Tropp and Miller pounded away at Lehigh's line, Miller passed to Thoroughgood for the sake of variety, placing the ball on the 13 yard marker. Two Lehigh substitutions failed to bolster the line, and on the next play Lodge knifed through left tackle for a score.

Lodge crossed the goal line untouched, which is rarely done in an off-tackle play. Grange accomplished it against Penn in 1927 and Hinkle of Bucknell pulled the same trick to the sorrow of Temple last year. Whether Claude was trying to emulate these stalwarts, or was merely attempting to keep his nice new uniform clear of Taylor Field sod we do not know, but we liked the touchdown.

Soeder also put up a fine game defensively and initiated his career as a Grizzly quarterback by manipulating the team's offensive in an almost faultless manner.

Wally Tropp, who, before we forget it, played one sweet game, germinated the second Ursinus sixpointer when he recovered a Lehigh fumble after Miller had punted deep in enemy territory. The big Sophomore, with the aid of Lodge, advanced the ball to the 1 yard line where Captain Miller carried it over.

Dr. Johnson (not to be confused with Russel "Jingling" Johnson, '16) wishes to announce the purchase of a new medicine kit. "Shorty", as he is known to his host of admirers, still retains the gray slouch and the gait that is both speedy and lumbering, which he employs in his jaunts to the field.

The Lehigh melee marked the coming out of the following debutantes: Henschel, Tropp, and Sommers. Lodge and Thoroughgood were buds of last season. Flowers may be sent care of McAvoy.

Brotherhood Renews

Activities for the Year

The Brotherhood of St. Paul held its first meeting of the year Thursday, September 24, in the Hendricks Memorial building. The interest of the students in the organization was clearly shown by the large attendance which was almost one hundred per cent. The affair, primarily a group discussion, was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The meeting was opened by devotions led by Jerome Wenner '33 aided by Louis Mitchell '34, who conducted the singing. A quartet composed of Clair Hubert '33, A. L. Creager '33, Gilbert Kugler '32, and Gilbert Bartholomew '35 rendered the selection, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," after which Dr. Tower, the faculty advisor, gave a few remarks.

A business meeting conducted by Donald Ottinger '32, president of the Brotherhood, was next in order. Its purpose was to announce the committees for the coming year and to secure a speaker for next month's gathering. The committees as appointed by the president are as follows: Program Committee—Jerome Wenner, Richard Shaffer, Norman Shollenberger; Membership Committee—Alfred Alspach, Alfred Creager, Kenneth Masteller; Information Committee—Roy Burkhart, Clair Hubert, Jacob Weaver.

It was further decided that the speaker for next month would be the Rev. Edwin Faye of Norristown.

The refreshments which ensued were much enjoyed. Then followed a very personal discussion on "What Does it Cost—Religion and Belief in Jesus Christ". The attendance and discussion of Rev. Lentz and Prof. Sheeder was appreciated very much by the students.

BOOSTER COMMITTEE

The newly organized Booster Committee for the development of school spirit at Ursinus has already met and made elaborate plans for the coming year. Jack Massey, head of the men's booster committee, had charge of the pep meeting that was held last Thursday night. He also had "Beat Lehigh" posters placed at conspicuous places on the campus. Last year the committee in charge had several temporary banners placed in front of Freeland Hall, but this year the booster committee plans to purchase several permanent standards for all home games which they will place in front of Freeland.

A pep meeting will be held before each game and students are urged to attend all of them so that the Ursinus cheering section may be one of the best. The band is giving its support, and every student in College should back it by his presence at these meetings.

Jane Bierbower '32 heads the women's booster committee and they are also working up enthusiasm by placing banners in front of their halls and corresponding with the football men.

MEN STUDENTS WILL RECEIVE PRIVILEGES AT NORRISTOWN Y

The men students will be pleased to know that a definite plan for the use of the Norristown Y. M. C. A. building will be presented to the College Y. M. C. A. at their meeting on Wednesday evening at 6:45 in Bomberger. This plan will be presented by Frank Whitehead, the physical director of the Norristown "Y".

Accompanying Mr. Whitehead will be the secretary of the Norristown Y. M. C. A., Charles Gruber, who will present the values of the Y. M. C. A. on the campus.

Everything points to an interesting as well as important meeting and it is therefore hoped that the men of the College will come out and support the Association.

MUSICAL PROGRAM AT VESPER

Vespers, Sunday night, were held in Bomberger, as usual, and consisted mostly of a musical program. Kathryn Inman '32 was in charge and after the singing of the first hymn, instead of a portion of Scripture she read a selection called "The Mirror of Faith." It asked the question "Do we always look the same in the mirror of God's faith? Is it always a clear reflection or is it sometimes blurred?"

Muriel Ingram '33 played a violin solo, "Ave Maria" (Bach-Gounod), accompanied by Coreta Nagle '33. Miss Inman led in prayer. Ruth Haines '34 and Marion Hageman '34, sang a duet, accompanied by Miriam McFadden '34. After the singing of a hymn the service closed with the Mizpah benediction.

MANY INTERESTING EVENTS

EXPERIENCED BY PROFESSORS

sey seashore resorts. He was a guest at Asbury Park, Ocean Grove, and Ocean City.

Dr. Clawson stayed at home where he was kept busy mowing lawns and doing other odd jobs.

Dr. Yost was quite active in the work of the summer conferences and when these closed his presence was needed in the library.

Another New Jersey visitor was Dr. Tower who spent several days in Woodbury where he visited his daughter. At other times he was a home where he did quite a bit of studying.

Dr. Barnard spent six weeks in State College, Pennsylvania, teaching Political Science to the summer students of Penn State. Dr. Barnard has been a member of the summer faculty of that institution for several years. At the close of the summer session the doctor and Mrs. Barnard took a motor trip through New York and the New England States.

Professor Witmer was again attracted by the fresh water streams where he did some fishing. His orchard, garden, and lawn are further proof that he was quite busy during the summer months.

Professor Bretz did not have a very enjoyable summer for he was among the convalescents at Ithaca, New York.

The American Youth Foundation Camp in New Hampshire was very fortunate in having Dr. White as a member of its council this summer. At the close of her stay at this camp Dr. White motored through the rest of the New England States.

Professor Boswell turned student and did some graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania summer school and then visited his home in Kentucky.

Canada and the seashore played hosts to Dr. Sturgis for short times during the past months. At other times he could be found working in his yard on Sixth Avenue.

Sickness overtook Professor Tyson and he was therefore kept at home.

When asked about his summer Dr. Klingaman said, "I spent the entire vacation at my summer home in Collegeville."

Professor Lindsay returned to his home in Montreal, Canada, at which place he spent most of his time.

Dr. McClure revisited London where he did some work in the office of Public Records on Chancery Lane.

Cape May, New Jersey, was the home of Dr. Bancroft.

When Prof. Harold Brownback was not in the Biology laboratory he could be found fishing. He had marvelous luck this season. If you don't believe this article, call at the lab and hear some good fish stories.

Professor and Mrs. Sheeder took courses at the University of Chicago.

The University of Chicago also played the part of Alma Mater to Prof. Bone for a period of six weeks. After his studies were finished he returned to his home in Indiana.

The student body of the University of Wisconsin was improved by the presence of Professor and Mrs. Carter. They also paid many visits to their young son who is nearing the end of his first year.

The roads of New England and the lakes of New Jersey lured Dr. and Mrs. Old.

Mr. Michael had no vacation. The college took most of his time in an effort to obtain the money from some pledges made on the library and gymnasium.

"Jing" Johnson was also employed by the College. He worked on the new baseball diamond and solicited new students for this year's freshman class.

Mr. Manning was another member of our faculty who spent his time in study. He attended the University of Pennsylvania and then visited his wife's mother for a few weeks.

Another European visitor was Mr. Sibbald. He spent two months in Paris where he studied the Marionette theatre. He was doing this work preparatory to writing his doctor's dissertation.

Last and far from the least is the vacation of Mr. Carleton. His summer was probably more eventful than any of the ones mentioned. In the early part of the summer he returned to the University of Minnesota where he received his Master's degree. His next move was to enter into matrimony believing that two could live as cheaply as one. Not satisfied with a degree and a wife he decided that it was necessary to have an automobile and then purchased a Packard.

With this short summary the vacation season is officially closed.
